

Menu

dedicatory cone

Object Type

dedicatory cone

Museum number

109930

Description

Inscribed clay cone; thirteen lines of inscription.

Authority

Ruler: Lu-Utu

Production place

Made in: Asia
Asia

Materials

fired clay

Dimensions

Diameter: Diameter: 5 centimetres
Length: Length: 15.50 centimetres

Inscriptions

- Inscription type: inscription
- Inscription position: Below head of cone
- Inscription language: Old Akkadian
- Inscription script: cuneiform
- Inscription transliteration: 1 dEresh-ki-gal 2 nin ki-utu-shu4-ra 3 Lu-utu 4 ensi umma-ki 5 dumu-dnin sin-ka-ke4 6 nam-ti-la-ni-she 7 ki-dutu-e 8 ki-nam-tar-re-da 9 e mu-na-du 10 gab-ba 11 a bi-gi-in 12 bi 13 pa bi-in-e
- Inscription translation: To Ereshkigal, the lady of the place of sunset: for his life, Lu'utu, ensi of Umma, son of Ninisina, built a temple in the place of sunrise, the place where fates are determined. At the front (of the temple) he installed water and made its name shining.
- Inscription note: Translation by D. Katz: The Image of the Netherworld in Sumerian sources, Bethesda MD 2003, pp. 352-3 CT 36, 3

Inscription subject

religious

Bibliographic references

Gadd, CT 36 / Cuneiform Texts from Babylonian Tablets in the British Museum \(3\)
Guide 1922 / Guide to the Babylonian and Assyrian Antiquities in the British Museum \(84\)

Collon 2005b / The Queen of the Night

Frayne, RIME 2 / Sargonic and Gutian Periods (RIM.E.2.11.6.2.1)

Location

Not on display

Acquisition name

Purchased from: Alfred B W Holland

Previous owner

Previous owner/ex-collection: Capt H V Cowley

Acquisition date

1914

Department

Middle East

BM/Big number

109930

Registration number

1914,0406.833

Conservation

Treatment

Treatment

Clay Cone of Lu-Utu, governor of Umma.

No. 106600

